MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL

VIRGINIA BONDS, &c .- J. A. Hambleton Co.'s Catimore Financial Circular of Saturday last

Virginia consols and ten ferties were in great demand, and on a strong buying movement ad-canced from 1 to 5 per cent. Consols sold from 1 110 to be and 10 40's from 502 up to 524 The ction of the republican party of Virginia in desiding to cut loose from the readjusters, had a very marked effect on Virginia bonds. Those as sold consols short, around 70, having given hem in, and it is well that they are covering, or both consols and 10 40's are sure to sell at sch higher figures. Large blocks of consols re bil for seller 12 months flat, at about 2 per at under the market price, but sithough per cent lower, no one has the courage to sell at shart now even on such atvantageous and 10 to coupons are steady at about 931. ecinia pee ers strong at about 3/4, and Vir mis deferred dull at about 14

Bailroad bonds were fairly active and strong.

H. H. Maury & Co's Richmond circular says Conside have rapidly advanced, especially since the middle of the week, and close strong around $2, showing the soundness of the opinpurchase at 71, the price at which they were a good purchase at 71, the price at which they were then colling. The principal rise took place on Thursday and Friday and large blocks of bonds were eagerly taken up at the advancing figures. here can be no doubt that these bonds will find many more friends, even at the higher prices, public confidence is being rapidly restored in them, and the high rate of interest which they pay renders them very attractive. It ome unquestionable that in the opinion of the seral public the cause of readjustment has re-140, and later by the decision of the Su-preme Court of the United States touching be right of the State to tax coupons.

Virginia ten fortios have a so participated in this upward movement, and many thousand have been sold up to 52. The almost lorgotten clars seem to be wanted on all sides, and for he first time in many months round lots are engerly inquired for, and sales have been made an to 3. No doubt the activity in this class has been mainy caused by the expectation that the $1.00.00 mortgage due by the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Kailroad to the State will not be preserved, either in the whole or in part, has increasing the assets of the Commonwealth considerably By the set incorporating this company it is provided that this loan can be at I cil'in State bonds at par, and peelers being the cheapest, it is reasonable to suppose that they will be in demand for this purpess. We note a sale of one let of $5000 in New York a few versince. There is also a continued advance Virginia deferred, and somebody seems ready take all othering. There are indications that sevement will be commenced before long to has a from the Legislature of West Virginia recognition and settlement of her phare of Weather Probabilities. February 14. 1881.-For the South Atlantic States, clear or partly cloudy weather, northerly winds, stationary or lower temperature and rising barometer.

After the Flood-A Tour of Inspec tion.

All day posterday the road leading to the Long Bridge was thronged with people [among them our reporter] on an inspecting tour, anxious to see the extent of the damage to that structure by the flood of Saturday. Vehicles of all kinds were pressed into service, and those unable to secure a horse or other means of con veyance, footed it, arriving at the bridge only to see a vast sheet of water, sweeping everything before it, in its angry, threatening ourrent, from Fort Runyon to the Virginia end of the Long Bridge, which portion of the strue ture alone survived the wicek. The large crowd present, the rushing waters, the devestation and the laborers engaged in re-creeting the telegraph poles that had been washed away. presented an animated scene. The wreck was complete. The entire causeway of the bridge, and the reilroad bed, ties and raits, were gone for a mile.

The fine timothy farm of Mr. Allen Dodge, of Georgetown, was covered with water, the barn, much damaged, filled with hey, standing slops on an i-land of ice, while off in the distance on another field of ice stood a but looking like a thing forsaken. The once gay and festive Jackson Cuy Hotel presented the appearance of an ark caught in the flood with its windows open. The root only was discernable. The writer with six other pedestrians, leaving the Long Bridge, wooded their way to the Aque dust Bridge, which was found to be in good eved some heavy blows in the elections hast condition. Mr. Thorn stated that the only loss here was a thousand feet of timber, which were swept away Saturday night. From the wharf of the Borden Mining Company, of which Mr. Wm. Missiers, of this city, is agent, on the Georgetown side, as far as the eye could reach, could be seen evidences of the destructive course of the flood. Whatves had been swept away and buildings were still standing in water up to the second story, although by the giving away of about four space or 400 feet of the Long Bridge, which cocurred Saturday night about time c'cleck, the water had fellen s'x or even feet.

Passing over into the city the water was found to have almost entirely subsided, and the r.v r front was the principle object of attraction. 'Hockers Division' was still in a partially submerged condition. The denizens of the south rn section of the locality were lacking out of the second story windows of the houses and toats were still in active service. The shares along the river were lined with sight scars, and a large number of men and boys la place of the water which the high tide had forced up on the wharves and into the m. for Washington, and returning, leave Washstreets, there was a mass of broken ice which ington at 4:20 p. m. for this city. The conhad been frez n solid. The scene was desolate nection from Shepherd's to this city, will be by in the ex reme, but presented many picturesque features. Where the Long Bridge had stretched there was an unbroken view up the river to the Virginia shore. Below, the huge mass of the bridge which had been torn away from its piers and carried some 200 yards, lay turned over on the side on the surface of the ice. Here and there a huge truck of a tree or a piese of lumber whirled up by the force of the current stood bare and black against the sky.

Below the bridge a number of oyster boats were grounded on the shore. It is believed that the Washington channel is entirely blocked to the bottom, and that the day. ico reaches all the way to the bottom of the The sleamer George Leary is lying at the Potomse Ferry wharf. She has not sustained any great damage from the pressure of the ice. She was pressed upon the wharf and the piles had to be ear away to get her off. The steamer Arrowsmith has just below the Lewy. She is presed up on the the wharf, and apprehensions are entertained as to the result to the vessels when the ion begins to move. A the Seventh street wharf a three masted chooser has been forced up on the shore and is lying on her side.

the Mosel y is lying with her broadside against the what and house and the upper part is resting on the wharf.

The steam is Gibon and the Lake, which are lastened together, have been driven from their mooring to front of the wharf, and lie beow the house brounded on the arsenal lot. The Thompson, on the south side, is considred out of danger. There is no way of relievog these vers leand the owners await with considerable anxiety the movement of the ice. The fact that the ice is gorged the entire depth of the channel adds to the gravity of the situa. ion. The force with which this mass of ion wil move will be tremendeus.

The damage to the Long Bring is estimated at $125,000. Not only the portion of the bridge which was curried away will have to be rebuilt, but also the entire causeway. To restore the draw of the bridge to a condition fit for travel will cost a considerable sum. The necessary lumber to reconstruct the damaged causeway is already on the ground.

There will be very little interruption to travel, so firm, and we note small sales at 51 for white as arrangements have been made to convey pasand 62 for yellow. Ho Bye or Oats reported, sengers for the South by railroad to For: Rue-Country produce is quiet at quotations. The you, where they will be met by omnibuses. The trains of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will be transferred from Shepherd's to this city on the railroad barge, where they will make connection with the Virginia Midland Railway. All iceming trains over the Virginia Midland Railway will be met at Shephord's,

The pedestrians who accompanied the reporter returned last night, foet sore and weary. The river is not ususually high at this point, and no damage has been sustained here.

The tugbests Potomae and Kate left here ANTED-A WHITE MAN to work on this alternoon, employed by Capt. Gundie, of the B. & P. R. R., to try and break the ice gorge between Giesbere' and Arsenal Point. The coat these points is very heavy, complete ly chaking up the entrance to the Eistern

YESTERDAY .- The passengers over the dif ferent railroads from the South, bound north, being detniced here, and the passengers from the north bound south, coming here in vehic'es from Washington, filled the city yesterday At ARMORY HALL, FEBY. 15 to 22, 1881. with strangers, all of whom whiled away the Admission 10c; senson ticket 60c. fob12-3t day by visiting the several places of interest.

shurches open had good congregations. In the M. E. Church, South, Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Baltimore, preached merning and night. W. C. Webb, presched in the M. E. Church in the morning. There were no services in the First Prestyterian, Rev. Mr. Whittlesey, who was expected to preach in this Church being by the regular cleray.

AN "HEARTLESS TRICK"-Probably the most crue! case of "conjuring" that has happened in this city for some time was practiced upon a colored woman in the pertion of Alexandria known as "Hayti" a few days ago. It appears that this inoffensive but exceedingly credulous creature was provident enough to lay in a winter's supply of cost, but some of her envious and less thrifty neighbors have succeeded in placing 'a spoll" upon her pile of fuel-of such a nature that, she asserts, sickness inevitably follows its ignition; and while the keen north wind is playing its mournful dirgo around her humble cottage and the prophecies of coming blizzards are being sounded in her ears, she is compelled to shiver and shake, and that, too, amid plenty.

CORPORATION COURT-Judge A. W. Chilton presiding.—[Continuation of Saturday's pro-ceedings.]—Virginia Stewart vs. I. C. O'Neal, administrator, et al; in chancery; decree sub-stituting R. W. Ballenger as next friend of Mary Jane Rvans in place of R. T. Lucas and remov Wimsatt and wife vs. Bagot et als.; in chancory; petition of Joseph Brager filed. To-Day -- Without transacting any business the court adjourned until to-morrow morning at Il o'clock.

CDD FELLOWS FAIR .- A. meeting of the lady managers of the Odd Follows fair was held Saturday evening February 12th, Final arrangements were made for the opening of the grand fair at Armory Hall to-morrow, for the benefit of Marley Encampment, No. 6. Mayor Courtland H. Smith, will open the fair at Sp. m. The Alexandria Musical Association will be in attendance and a large crowd is anticipated. A gold head cane will be awarded the gentleman receiving the highest number of votes, and a gold watch will be awarded the lady receiving the highest number of votes during the fair.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY, -To day has been devoted to St. Valentine, and a large number of love missives have passed through the postoffice. The Valentines this year have been very pretty, and there has been a conspicuous absence of the comic and spiteful species. The day was formerly tenderly set apart for all "true levers," and everything that could effend was studiously avoided.

COMMUNICATION WITH WASHINGTON,-To accommedate the public and until other arrangements can be completed, a train will be run from Shepherd's, leaving there at 7:30 a. means of a tue boat.

POLICE ITEMS -The Mayor had before him this morning the following cases: Rebeces Quill and Aga Piper, both colored for disorderly conduct, were fixed $5 each. Mary Springsteel and Mollie Scott, for being drunk on the streets, were fined $5 each.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Thomas Tucker and Henry Daley, colored, who attempted to wreck the fast mail train near Petersburg, on Friday, were sent to the Hustings Court for trial on Saturday. The penalty is not less than pine nor more than bracing.

Mr. Gentry, manager of the Western Union telegraph office in this city, has invented a tele-phone which compares favorably with any in the market. He has placed one at Portner's brewery, connecting with his effice, which works very satisfactorily to all parties. A large number of people having business in Washington, walked to that city this merning. It is stated that the damages to the Long Bridge will be repaired by the 4th of March.
